V F W PLANS CEREMONIES SUNDAY

I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

The election news from California is coming in, slowly. I would be less than honest, and considerably less than human, if I did not admit that I am both pleased and touched by the returns from the 22nd District. It was not an easy decision, to conclude that I should stay in Washington, and so I thank the men and women who worked for me, the past weeks, and all the men and women who went to the polls on June 1st and voted in what I surmise the future will look back on as one of the important election years in this nation.

As I've said many times, this is a job, like any other job. It has in it a little glamour, and a very large amount of hard work. I've often wanted to ask some of my friends to sit down and, without prompting, write the names of the members of the Congress they can think of rather quickly. Rating out the local member, and probably a very few from nearby districts, I wonder if the list would have a dozen names. Yet among the remaining four hundred or more members would be the ones who sail the ship of State and who keep it on its course.

If I were to use an illustration, disguising it enough to avoid identification, we used to have a California member whose name appeared constantly in the papers, particulary those papers which delight in thinking of themselves as "liberal." He would undoubtedly have been listed among the "leaders." He was liked personally, but in the entire time I knew him, he never had a bill passed, never had an amendment adopted (and he offered them to practically every bill on the floor,) and when he spoke, few listened. I recall a simple bill, which he tried unsuccessfully for an entire session to get a committee to report out, yet the next session it was introduced by another member and in about ninety days it was a law. We had another member from the west, presently running for re-election who was also highly spoken of in papers which ought to use a pinkish tinted ink, but he was away during his single term in the Congress, for weeks, before that fact was generally noticed here. Yet two dozen men will retire voluntarily, the end of this SESSION (an UNUSUALLY large number,) and I'll wager you'd recognize few of the names. Their leaving will be felt in many succeeding sessions, seriously. They are the workers, not the spotlight sitters. Lea, Elliot, Rizley, Mundt, Hartley, Whittington, Andrews, Noble Johnson, Anton Johnson, Dirksen, that is only ten of them. You know two from recent bills; two are running for the Senate; two are from California; how many did you recognize?

Champ Clark said once, talking on this subject, "A man has to learn to be a Representative, just as he must learn to be a blacksmith, a carpenter, a farmer, an engineer, a lawyer, or a doctor. A new Congressman must begin at the foot of the class. The best rule is for a district to select a man with at least fair capacity, industrious, honest, energetic, sober, and courageous, and keep him there as long as he discharges his duties faithfully and well." "Such a man," said Speaker Clark, "will gradually rise to high position and influence in the house."

I thank you for your votes. I am pleased, and honored and humble, in the face of election returns. Now I'll go back to work! We've been trying, in one subcommittee, early and late, Saturday and Memorial Day, to fix up the budgets for the Atomic Energy commission, the Maritime Commission, the Veteran's Administration, the Housing Expediter (I wonder what he exdites?) and the Office of Defense Transportation, not to mention the earnest desire of the War Assets Administration to perpetuate itself. At the same time, the sessions of Congress get longer and longer, and the pressure rises.

Success Of County Sewerage Program Assured

Longest stride in the county sewerage program was taken this week when all three of the "limited participation" sanitation districts, covering the county's great agricultural empire, were officially formed by the board of supervisors, and the entire ten-district program was within two units of completion. Success of the major plan was assured.

With District 7 formed last Monday and Districts 2 and 3 formed Wednesday afternoon, only two districts remained to be formed—District 4, including Seal Beach, Sunset Beach, and their back country, and District 9, covering Dana Point, San Clemente, Capistrano Beach, San Juan Capistrano, and South Laguna Sanitary District. Neither district affects the main program.

Solicit Aid In Choosing Name For Local Post

At the meeting of the V.F.W. Post No. 9847 last Thursday evening, it was decided to solicit the help of the people in Cypress in naming the local post. The members desire to call the post after a soldier, sailor or marine killed in the service of his country. The first serviceman killed in World War II will be honored in this manner.

In order to determine to whom this honor should go, the people in Cypress are urged to write a letter giving the name, date killed, branch of the service and any other pertinent information of friends or relatives they feel should be so recognized. These letters may be mailed to the Cypress Enterprise, P. O. Box 67, Cypress, California, before June 20.

Public Invited To Inspect New La Vida Plant

The La Vida Bottling Company, in Fullerton, is extending an invitation to the public this weekend to open house. The beverage company has been in business in Orange county twenty years, ago, according to Charles H. Schugt, manager, the site in Fullerton was chosen and the new plant was built, which is considered by experts to be one of the nicest in California. It is designed strictly for sanitation and is all automatic. Bottles are washed, sterilized, inspected, filled, crowned and cased at the rate of 28,800 per day.

The company operates in Orange county, San Bernardino, Riverside, Pomona, Long Beach and part of Los Angeles county. It will be of much general interest to the public to observe such a plant in operation and get an idea of the routine in manufacturing a product such as the La Vida products. There is a complete line of fruit drinks sold in the familiar quart size, the seven-ounce bottle, and the large size bottle known as the "nickle seller."

La Vida, which means in Spanish, "the life", originated at the La Vida mineral hot springs and its growth has been phenomenal. The company extends a hearty invitation to inspect the plant at Fullerton.

Larkin Family Celebrates Twice Last Sunday

Cypress had a winner at the Orange Crate Derby which was held last Saturday, June fifth, in Fullerton. The race, open to registered Cub Scouts only, was entered by Delwin Larkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Larkin, 9741 Denni Road. There were no other cub scouts from Cypress who participated.

Delwin had the fastest car in his class, and would have been eligible for the sweepstakes, had not his car been over the regulation weight. The honored scout is a member of Troop 176, and painted on the side of his entry was "Den 6, The Phantom." The car had the regulation soap box wheels, and the remainder was made from orange crates and finally painted white with red trim. The owner made it himself, with the help of his brother, Chester Alvin, who is 15 years of age. Delwin is 10, and in the fourth grade.

The winner is the happy possessor of a ball and a bat as the special prize. On Sunday, June sixth, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Larkin celebrated their wedding anniversary. Visitors on this special occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Burt Larkin and Larkin's sister, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burnett, of South Gate. Since Delwin has four brothers, the baseball equipment came in mighty handy, and the whole family enjoyed a game, followed by a special treat to celebrate the anniversary— home-made strawberry ice cream.

Friends of the Bill Watsons of North Long Beach will be interested to learn that they have purchased a new home in Lakewood. Mrs. Watson will be remembered as the former Allean Johnson who was a resident of Cypress during her elementary and high school days.

FAMILY AWAY WHEN SERIOUS FIRE DAMAGES

A fire which caused approximately $3000 damage partially destroyed the residence of Joe Kelley on Katella road Sunday evening. Kelley was at work and Mrs. Kelley was visiting her sister in Lakewood when the fire, which was believed to have been caused by an electrical short in the refrigerator was discovered.

Prompt action by the volunteer fire department with the assistance of the Cypress Fire department and one from the Los Alamitos Naval Air station succeeded in saving nearly all of the household possessions.

ALAMITOS C OF C PLANS DANCE JULY 31

When the Los Alamitos Chamber of Commerce met recently, a letter was read from the Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce, which stated that the county board of supervisors is considering the possibility of imposing licenses on all businesses in unincorporated areas. The latter further stated that the law was proposed by the city business men who pay these licenses to support the city government but such a government is lacking in unincorporated areas and all benefits are derived from general county taxes or local assessment districts. It asked that the local chamber lodge a vigorous protest with the board of supervisors.

The secretary, Mrs. Grace Johnson, was ordered to write and ask for more information on the proposed tax levy and how the unincorporated districts would benefit from such a law.

The group is planning a dance for July 31 to replenish the treasury which has been depleted through various activities such as paying for the school crossing guard, chartering a bus for the school children to attend a show in Santa Ana, and sponsoring the community picnic.

Telephone Wires Going Under

In the interests of Cypress people who travel to Anaheim, and have wondered what all the tunnelling is about under Lincoln avenue just west of that city, we wish to state that the work is being carried on by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company

It is planned to increase the service between Anaheim and Cypress and later as far as Long Beach, with long distance and local lines. Because of the immense cost of laying cable beneath the ground, and the many regulations that must be complied with for county and state, this program is being accomplished on a long range basis.

It is not felt that it will be practical in Orange county to go underground with all of the telephone cables. The cost of running wire from the main cable to the residence would be too great. This present construction will, however show a big improvement in telephone service at some future date.

IT'S BEING SAID - - IN CYPRESS

That the coolest head in town undoubtedly belongs to Mr. Robinson Motor Company, Sr. When the hot weather really hits, think how comfortable he's going to be with that cross between a butch and a crew haircut—the Robinson special!

That when Sam Miller came in to pay a year's subscription for the paper, we found out who owns one of those beautiful lawns on Lincoln Avenue. But what else could you expect from a former Indiana "boy?"

That it's the old story of the pasture looking greener on the other side, but honestly, some of the wives of our business men around town, women you probably wouldn't suspect, have had some of the most interesting careers. We wonder how we could have spent such a drab existence. Take, for instance, Mrs. L. J. Hendershot. He met her when he was in the navy overseas. She was part of a traveling unit with the USO and an assistant, of all things, to the famous Blackstone! No telling how many times she has been cut in half, or been the subject of other bits of the astounding Blackstone's magic! And no need to ask her, either, for she's "not telling." Mrs. Hendershot is to be congratulated for her contribution in the entertainment field with the USO. (Lester likes to congratulate the USO for helping him find his wife, too.)

That while we're speaking of wives with interesting talents, it reminds us that we never did correct an early error in these columns when we stated in a news item that C. W. Biggs won a set of silver on a quiz contest when visiting a radio show in the big city. It was MRS. Biggs, natch, to whom the credit should have gone. We understand that she writes very interesting and heartwarming bits of rhyme, too. Don't forget our "Poet's Corner," Mrs. Biggs.

That the blackest eye you ever saw appeared on the cutest little miss this last week. She isn't talking, but that's because she isn't old enough to tell us she bumped into a door in the dark. The truth of the matter is she fell out of her trundle bed, and the shiner Donna Luty received testifies to the distance she fell. Luckily, no bones were broken.

That we don't take time to read books any more, so it was with real pleasure that we listened to J. C. Fox tell about South Africa the other day when he was in a chatting mood. It seems that, if you are a young man, there are still frontiers for adventure if you have what it takes. Fox says that on the first "safari," with proper guidance, a fellow could probably come home with around $5000. After he learns the ropes, he should go as high as $10 to $15,000. Trading is done with the Congo natives. He himself traded in rugs, rubies or whatever interested the natives most — sometimes simply glass beads. He estimated that 30 per cent of the African continent has not yet been seen by whites. Fox was in Africa at the time the now fabulous "Trader Horn," who was developed from a beach comber to the colorful character he became in the book and movies, was in the process of building his reputation. There is a lot to say about the pearl industry, too, and how the Japanese train women to dive into the oyster beds (the gals can hold their breath the longest) to rupture the oyster and so produce pearls when none would have existed, but we were writing a column, and not a book, so must stop somewhere with our newfound information.

Services For Newly Organized Chapter Here

The newest organization in Cypress, and one which gives every indication of being one of the largest, is in the final stages of becoming a full-fledged community service club. On Sunday, June 13, the local chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 9847, will hold its initiation and installation of officers in a ceremony which promises to be a colorful pageantry of activities.

At the meeting Thursday night, the members discussed arrangements for this special occasion, and also reviewed the history of the organization, which was founded in 1898 by overseas veterans of the Spanish American War. The idea at the start was to assist orphans and widows of the men who gave their lives over-seas, and the original principles are still being adhered to, those of helping one another. As the years passed, the group became strong enough to build and maintain a home in Eaton Rapids, Michigan, for children and widows of deceased veterans — and many of the veterans of World War II were boys raised here who knew no other home. Of the amount raised from the sale of poppies every year, a project sponsored by the veterans of Foreign War's organization, two cents goes to the veteran who makes the poppy and three cents to this home in Michigan. In addition to offering shelter, a monthly allowance and subsistence is paid to the women and children. Orphans remain until they are 18 years of age. After that time the officials of the home find them a job and allow them to return as often as they wish to visit.

It was disclosed at the meeting that the local chapter now has nearly fifty charter members. It was explained that the charter is held open for ninety days after the actual installation — so any new members joining for the next few weeks will be considered charter members.

It was announced at the Thursday evening meeting that plans going forward for the ceremony Sunday include the Drum and Bugle corps from Santa Ana. It is further planned to hold the activities in the Cypress elementary school auditorium from two o'clock to five o'clock in the afternoon. Members were urged to wear uniforms, if possible, to participate in a salute to the war dead. The installation will be conducted by past department commander, Charles Park, and the public is cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served following the services, it was stated, to all members and visitors, which will be furnished by the Post.

Junior Club Women Make Interesting Plans

The Junior Woman's Club held its June meeting in the rumpus room of the Ralph Ellsworth home with Mrs. James Palmer and Mrs. Glenn Miser hostesses for the noon pot luck luncheon.

Plans were made for a hamburger fry for Saturday, June 26, at Anaheim city park with the families of the members invited. The next meeting of the group will take place on July 7 and because of vacation when the children of the members will be home, it was voted to hold the meeting at Anaheim city park. Mrs Lawrence Gaylord and Mrs. George Gamble will be hostesses.

Those attending the recent meeting were Mesdames Bennie Pugh, Joe Ferguson, Lawrence Gaylord, James Palmer, K. C. Beason, John Lukens, Leslie Brannan, George Costa, Glenn Miser, Ralph Ellsworth and Norville Chapman.

ALAMITOS CHURCH HAS MOVIE FACILITIES NOW

Los Alamitos—A children's Day program and annual promotion will take the place of the morning worship at the Community Congregational church next Sunday morning.

The church has purchased a 16 mm sound movie projector with a picture on religious subjects to be shown every two weeks. Last Sunday, the picture "We Also Receive" was shown and pictured the aid given by Christian natives in the South Sea Islands to pilots forced down in the jungles. On June 20, the first of two installments on Queen Esther will be shown with the concluding chapter on July fourth.

A HEARTY WORD OF WELCOME

We are pleased to add our word of greeting to the newest organization in Cypress, which will make its official debut on Sunday. The same cooperation which united them in common cause in time of war is being manifested as they unite together in peacetime. They are willing to forget the routines and the procedures of the old order, and cling only to the fundamental foundation for membership — duty with the armed services on foreign soil. Members eligible to join under this condition have pledged themselves to a program for community service with the same sort of zeal they exhibited in answering the call which brought them together originally.

Local Post No. 9847 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Cypress, California, is officially born this Sunday, June 13, with the execution of the proper initiation and installation ceremonies, climaxing several weeks of preparation. The charter members are to be congratulated on their foresight and enthusiasm in laying the groundwork for so important an organization in a community. Especially have they looked to the future in the choice of officers, those chosen to lead and direct the various activities of the group.

Cypress V.F.W. — we welcome you and extend our official greeting.

A FOND FAREWELL

And to the class of '48, a fond farewell. Whether the class be finishing elementary, high school, junior college or from a school of higher learning, our boys and girls are well represented and we wish for them only the best. We think particularly of the million or more young Americans to whom all school days will soon be but a memory. These young people should not assume success will come to them automatically. The same qualities and habits which have been essential to advancement in the past are still necessary today. Right now the important thing is to "make the grade." When results of the final test are known, a sigh of relief is heard that the previous night spent "cramming" was not wasted. The more or less trite class motto is reviewed on programs, in commencement addresses, in the baccalaureate service. The graduate, still basking in the relief felt in having been eligible to be present at these ceremonies lets the real meaning slip by him and does not realize until many months or years later how important the opportunity for education is and how much he forfeited by working to merely "get by."

Fortunately, every graduate can set a high goal for himself in his chosen field. If he keeps that goal ever before him and is not discouraged by the ups and downs leading to it, he is sure to attain a substantial measure

Important features of the financial responsibility law are listed for your convenience in the following question and answer form.

Q. Am I subject to the law if I am a non-resident?

A. Yes. Everyone, with a few exceptions, who operates a motor vehicle in California must observe the Financial Responsibility Law. If you are a non-resident and you fail to comply with it, your driving privilege in California will be suspended.

Q. Who are exempt from the law?

A. Operators of vehicles owned by the Federal, State and municipal governments and political subdivisions of the State, and vehicles owned or operated by a carrier subject to jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission of the State or the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission. Self-insurers are exempt from security provisions of the act.

Q. How can I qualify as a self-insurer?

A. If you have more than 25 motor vehicles registered in your name and can satisfy the Department of Motor Vehicles that you are able and will continue to be able to meet judgments obtained against you, a certificate of self-insurance may be issued to you.

Q. Can the information contained in the accident report form be used in any legal action against me?

A. Neither the report information, the department's findings nor the security deposited shall be deferred to in any way or be any evidence of the negligence or due care of either party in any damage suit arising from the accident.

Q. What use is made of deposited security?

A. Cash security is deposited by the Department of Motor vehicles with the State Controller. Other forms of security are deposited with the State Treasurer. Security is used to pay any judgements which might be obtained against you or for settlement of any claims agreed to in writing.

Q. How can security be recovered?

A. Security on deposit or any unexpended balance of security shall be returned to the depositor or his representative when evidence satisfactory to the Department of Motor Vehicles has been filed of a release or final adjudication of nonliability, a confession of judgement or acknowledge agreement providing for payment of an agreed amount in installments.

Q. Will I be notified if my license is suspended?

A. Notice of suspension must be sent by the Department to an operator not less than 10 days prior to the effective date of the suspension and shall state the amount required as security.

Q. What are the requirements for a liability insurance policy or surety bond to qualify under the California law?

A. It must be issued by a company authorized to do business in this state. In the case of coverage on an automobile registered outside of the State, the issuing company, if not authorized to do business in the State, must have authorized the Director of Motor Vehicles to accept service on its behalf in any action arising out of an accident. The policy must have a limit of not less than $5,000 for injury or death to one person, $10,000 for injury or death to two or more persons and not less than $1,000 for property damage.

Q. Are there any exceptions to security provisions of the act?

A. Yes. They do not apply to the driver of a motor vehicle involved in an accident wherein no injury or damage to the property of anyone other than himself was caused; to the operator of a legally parked, standing or stopped vehicle, either attended or unattended, or if prior to the time the Department would suspend the driver's license or non-resident's driving privilege evidence is filed of a release from liability, judgement of nonliability, confession of judgement or written agreement calling for payment of an agreed amount in installments.

Q. How long will my drivers's license remain suspended for non-deposit of security?

A. Until the required security is deposited, until one year has elapsed since the accident without a damage action being instituted or until there is filed with the Department evidence of a release from liability, final adjudication of nonliability, confession of judgement or an acknowledged written agreement to pay an amount in installments.

Q. Who determines the amount of security to be deposited with the Department of Motor Vehicles?

A. Evaluators of the Department set the amount after study of all reports on the accident.

Q. Where can I obtain accident report forms?

A. From any office of the Department of Motor Vehicles, California Highway Patrol, Police Department, Auto Club or your insurance agent or broker.

Q. Am I liable under the law if the accident wasn't my fault?

A. Yes. It makes no difference whether you were to blame or not.

Q. What is the procedure if I am so badly injured that I can't report the accident?

A. Have someone prepare the report for you. If you were not the owner of the car, it is the owner's responsibility to see that the report is made.

Q. If a vehicle owned by me and driven by another person is involved in an accident do I have any responsibilities or duties under the act?

A. If you were driving your car it would be your responsibility to report any accident covered by the law and provide the necessary security. The law is enforced through drivers instead of owners or vehicles. However, if the driver of a motor vehicle owned by you is so severely injured he cannot report, it is your responsibility to do so.

Q. Is the Financial Responsibility report the only one I have to make at the time of an accident?

A. No. In addition to identifying yourself properly to others involved you must report to law enforcement authorities in writing within 24 hours in case there is death or injury. The report must be made to the local police department if the accident occurred within an incorporated area. Otherwise, it must be made to the California Highway Patrol.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Amelia Flemming, and two daughters, Mrs. Loretta Maahs, and Mrs. Cornelia Placey and by two grandsons, Bobbie and Ronnie Maahs. The daughters live on opposite corners of the Lincoln—Western intersection. Mr and Mrs. Flemming had their home on the Maahs property.

Survey Shows Need For More Orange Pickers

There is still a need for over 2,000 additional orange pickers in Orange County, according to a survey made by State Department of Employment officials of this County. 800 men are needed now and the remainder by the middle of July when the peak of the harvest is expected.

George A. Graham, Manager of Citrus Growers, Inc. says that the Mexican Nationals brought here have only partially relieved the shortage of pickers. It is hoped that more local men will make themselves available. It is the desire of the citrus industry to import only as many Mexicans as are absolutely necessary and domestic pickers are always given preference, said Graham.

Orange pickers are urged to apply either singly or in groups to the State Department of Employment Offices at 719 South Spadra Road, Fullerton, or to 501 West 5th Street, or 1506½ North Main Street, Santa Ana. Full information may be had at all these offices.

Orange County High In Total Bond Sales

Sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in the eleven southern California counties during April totaled $16,262, J. B. Messick, acting director of the U. S. Savings Bonds division for the area has announced.

Of the total, $11,467,829 was invested by individuals in Series E Bonds, the remaining $4,794,443 going into F's and G's.

April bond in Orange county agregated $339,789, of which $232,709 represented E's.

In reporting the sales figures, Messick said that vigorous Security Loan campaign activities are now under way in the majority of southland communities, and increased public sales of these government securities is confidently anticipated.

Main objective of the Security Loan drive is to substantially increase the number of persons buying U. S. Saving Bonds regularly through the payroll savings and Bond-a-Month plans.

Santa Ana Holds Indoor Sports, Inc. Club Convention

By Forrest A. Lowrey

No, this is not a convention of ping-pong, basket ball, or checker players. This convention was chaperoned by nothing short of an army, the Boy Scouts, City police, State highway patrol, Red Cross and many other guards who were on duty to be sure this convention went on with out mishap. Would you like to join this club and attend the annual convention with service delux such as this? You are welcome, but of course there are a few rules and regulations, as in any club.

I. You must walk with the aid of crutch, cane, brace or be confined to a wheel chair.

2. You must make a daily effort to live up to the following code:

Never Martyrdom shall I seek.
Never Sarcasm shall I speak.
Never Ingratitude shall I show.
Never Discontented shall I grow.
Never Sympathy shall I desire.
Never Self-pity shall I acquire.
Never Unhappiness shall I spread.
Never Tears of Remorse shall I shed.
Never Sorrow shall I sing.
Never to Selfishness shall I cling.
Never Criticism shall I write.
Never of God shall I lose sight.

Now these are only two of the rules and I am sure you are amiss on the first one. The second rule or code is a good one to adopt.

With this picture in mind the details of the convention are as follows: The twelfth annual convention of the Indoor Sports Club, Inc. was held at Julia Lathrop Junior high school in Santa Ana, Sunday June 6, with attendance at more than 500. Many cities and towns in California were represented, also Phoenix, Arizona. The annual business meeting was carried on in the usual manner and nothing short of a feast was served at noon. By one o'clock many members had unthinkingly broken one of the codes, (Never Discontented shall I grow,) by eating so much their mid-section forced them to break this code and many were noted breaking another in addition, (Never Sympathy shall I desire.)

Can one wonder? The chef reported 39 chickens were required, not to mention the other ingredients, to make a 450 lb. chicken loaf. The complete dinner was prepared by the Rossmore Cafe of Santa Ana. C. H. Hutchins, the chef, was the most flirted with gentleman by the feminine club members. (I agree he would be a good catch, or maybe he has already been hooked.)

Now let's take a walk out on the lawn where most of the members were visiting or just plain "bogged down" unless they were in a wheel chair and one of the boy scouts was serving as the locomotive power. The blind were lead together in a group and were talking about new recordings available and books now obtainable in Braille. One young gentheman with his lady fair manneuvered with his electric wheel chair for a good position to take some movies of a group of friends. A handsome young boy scout strolled by pushing a pretty young thing in a wheel chair, and I don't blame him. No joking the boy scout troops did an excellent job all day. Also the American Legion Auxiliary, under the supervision of Mr. Tex Hanson. Did you ever try to handle a wheel chair with 150 to 225 pounds in it? Set it down three steps and don't spill the contents. You have to know your business or you're in for some stunts that will prove a novels.

Five hundred individuals on crutches, with canes, seeing-eye dogs, wheel chairs with electric power, wheel chairs self propelled, on beds, and some with only a lame arm or leg, filed into the auditorium for the afternoon entertainment. And what an entertainment! Music, singing, dancing and everything that goes with an afternoon of a stage show. Many speakers from other organizations, including R. Carson Smith, mayor of Santa Ana, spoke briefly and thanked the members for an up-lifting of spirit. Mayor Smith explained how many of us sink into a rut thinking we have a hard row to hoe but if we will just look around at the other fellow we find him really down but not out. Yes, Mr. Mayor, we agree. For instance, one of the members there had a smile all the time and most of the time was laughing out loud. We know he was happy, for to-day was the first time he had been out side of a hospital for a long time. Prior to this time he has been confined to a hospital bed for ten years. So if you rise to fight and fall, rise again to fight and win.

P. S. If life hands you a lemon, make lemonade out of it.

LOS ALAMITOS

Roy Wright, Bill Poe, Jr., and Mrs. Grace Johnson attended the board of directors meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce held at Huntington Beach Monday evening.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dunn of their safe arrival in Olalla, Washington, where they are visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. E. A. Crouch. Mrs. Dunn will be back at her post in the local post office on June 22.

Records filed in the county court house show the sale of 14 acres of land in excess of $15,000 to Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Hermisello by Edwin J. Speyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johns, who were residents of Los Alamitos for 20 years previous to moving to Springerville, Arizona, were in town visiting old friends this week.

Ten Million Votes

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Looking Ahead

IF ONE of the first steps of socialization — government ownership — should come now in this country, ten million voters would be added immediately to the payroll of the federal government. Sounds unbelievable, doesn't it? Ten million voters could make quite a showing on a Tuesday of any November. Mr. Wallace, or any other candidate, could go far with that kind of backing.

There are approximately that many persons employed in the transportation industry in the United States. Transportation would be one of the first industries to be marked for nationalization, in this country as in Britain. This would include waterways, airlines, and possibly our trucks and their drivers. (Note on airlines: the British Overseas Airways Corporation, government owned and operated, is expected to show a $32 million loss!)

Is This Fantasy? EVEN in taking over American railroads, a would-be dictator could get possibly 1,500,000 votes. There are that many people employed by our railroads. Not all of them would vote the party line, at first. That would reduce the number of rail employees somewhat, until replacements were available. Of course, a new and revised form of WPA would be set up to absorb the unemployed. But even a WPA-er can vote. Either way, perhaps, the government would appreciate votes!

Lest we carry this satire too far, I will interrupt by saying that such a mess as the above is not sheer fantasy. It could happen here. The worst thing about it is that the general public and even many folks in the transportation industry, are unaware of the danger. Yet, economic collapse and consequent government ownership is quite possible. The nation would not have to go Communistic or be conquered by Russia for this to happen.

Financial Elbow-room SOME OF THOSE who are closest to the transportation industry fear that collapse may come. The trouble lies in outmoded forms of federal regulation. Too much bureaucracy can take us to socialism more quickly than we think.

This setting of the scene for trouble goes back a generation. The nation has compromised on policies so long that the result is a patchwork of rules and regulations that creates as much inefficiency as possible. Over 50 government bureaus are charged with supervising some kind of transportation, with little overall coordination of policy. Actually, in event our common carriers find business no longer profitable, the government is already well prepared to begin the take-over.

The trouble is that despite the largest volume of peacetime traffic, too few of our common carriers are able to make enough profit to attract capital to the industry. If nationalization comes in this country, it may well come because private capital has dried up as far as transportation is concerned.

The problem is this: We must have efficient, low cost transportation, and we must have it the American way. At a time when our railroads, like other forms of transport, are trying desperately to reconstruct themselves after an all-out job in wartime, we can ill afford to shackle them with heavy tax burdens and other financial obstacles that prevent rehabilitation. As the president of one of our largest life insurance companies put it: "Our railroads need financial elbow-room."
